St. Mark's Youth Group

a note from the

YOUTH DIRECTOR

Great things are happening for young people at St. Mark's. With this issue of "Wass Up?", we've introduced a section for PreTeens.

The PreTeen ministry is for our friends in grades 4 and 5. Julie Eblen is the lead coordinator for that group. Jayce Cunha is her assistant. They have lots of fun things planned this month.

Youth Group is for young people in grades 6-12. During the school year, Middle and High School students have separate activities. Rachel leads the Middle School and I lead High School. For all three groups this summer, we are sticking with the grade level that you completed in May.

On Rally Day, Aug. 12, incoming 6th graders move up to Youth Group at the Wesley House. In the mean time, it's summer. Enjoy the fun!

Blessings,
Kim

Middle School Moments

In my family, we like to find random facts. We also like to occasionally make up facts and see who believes us and who calls us out on our antics! This one, I promise you, is a real fact. Until 1820, people thought tomatoes were poisonous! Can you imagine? No ketchup, no spaghetti sauce, no tomato juice (I'm ok with that one!), and no pizza sauce?

I'm so glad that scientists proved, in 1820, that we can safely eat this delicious fruit/vegetable/whatever it is. Poisonous to nutritious. Bad to good.

No matter what we are faced with in our lives, God can always use it for good. As we navigate through life, it's so easy to call people or things "good" or "bad". But we should be careful! Sometimes we find out that that "bad" or "poisonous" thing we were confronted with is actually "good" and "nutritious". That, my friends, is a fact.

See you Sunday!
Rachel
